This new collection of lost gems of poetry has both well known poems and some more obscure writers and works. From the universally known poems such as She Walks in Beauty by Lord Byron and Number 43 (How Do I Love Thee?) by Elizabeth Barrett Browning to the less well known ones such as Jenny Kiss'd Me by Leigh Hunt and Beauty That is Never Old by James Weldon Johnson. I hope that you find these works as touching as I do. I hope that you also find them enlightening and entertaining and, perhaps, inspires you to seek out more lost gems from the past.
